GREATEST LECTURE ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Prof. Flynn Ends Health Campaign Then by Giving Complete Training in One Lecture

SECRET OF HEALTH IS TOLD

Entire Course Summed Into One Lesson Will Be the Grand Finale of Great Campaign

- TUESDAY'S PROGRAM
- How I train.
- What I eat.
- How I keep the face young
- How I care for the hair
- How I care for the eyes and teeth
- How I developed my physique
- How I keep the nerves in order
- How I retain youthfulness
- What exercise I take for special ailments.
- How to develop beautiful hands, development of the chest and bust.
- Training for old people
- Organization of the Hundred Year Club.

The whole Flynn system—the life work of the greatest health specialist in the country—will be given to the people of La Crosse in one great lecture which will conclude Prof. Flynn's health campaign here next Tuesday evening, June 2, at the First Methodist church. This is the last general instruction to his classes, including a detailed resume of all he has taught them, and the public is to be permitted to attend and get in this one great final lecture, the entire course of Flynn's crowded into one evening.

This lecture was announced for Friday evening of this week, but owing to its importance and its broad scope Prof. Flynn has decided to postpone it until Tuesday evening, when he concludes his campaign here. Each of the subjects given at the head of this article will be taken up individually and detailed and explicit instruction will be given upon each point, with all the actual exercises required to reach desired organs, muscles, nerves and blood vessels. Prof. Flynn will show the audience just how to reach individual organs for special ailments and diseases and how to exercise them to rid the body of the trouble. He will give detailed instructions as to the foods to be eaten for certain ailments and conditions and those who attend are urged to bring pencil and paper that these suggestions may be taken down for future use. Prof. Flynn will tell how he built himself from an invalid to a man of perfect physique, how he replaced a bald spot with his magnificent head of hair, how he has developed the vital organs until he does not fear sickness, for he knows his condition is so perfect sickness is impossible. He has accomplished these things, and they can be accomplished by every man and woman who will follow the instructions he will give in his Tuesday night lecture. It is neither impossible nor difficult to gain perfect health and once on the right road it is a pleasure which has never been known to any who have not felt the thrills of perfect health. Once the work is started each organ which feels the benefit of the system helps the other and works into a general harmony in the rebuilding of the body which makes its accomplishment a genuine pleasure, and not a struggle as many imagine. Once the slight soreness of the first exercising of inactive muscles is over the pleasure of the work will be a real surprise to those who take it up.

Prof. Flynn and Miss Bosworth are the highest priced people in this work in the United States, but instead of going into it for mere financial gain, they have made their work of health evangelism a life mission. Lectures which have been given free here by arrangement with The Tribune have been paid for at high prices in other cities. The only financial consideration in Mr. Flynn's La Crosse campaign is sufficient funds to pay current expenses and a moderate compensation for Prof. Flynn and Miss Bosworth. People of La Crosse who have reaped the great benefit from Mr. Flynn's free lectures will be given an opportunity Tuesday night to show their appreciation of his labors here, and to show their recognition of the value of his system by attending the final lecture which will in fact be the whole system in a nutshell and will be more valuable than any money consideration in the preservation of health, which after all, is the greatest asset on earth. This is the only paid lecture Prof. Flynn has given here, though it is his custom to give several paid lectures in the other cities he has visited. The price of

COTTON ADDRESS IS ON VITAL LINES

Normal Superintendent Discusses the Pedagogic Idea and the Fruit of Normal Training

EVERY PHRASE CONSIDERED

Methods and values in the Road to Education Treated in Scientific Manner

Following is the full text of the notable address on the normal school, written by Supt. F. A. Cotton for delivery before the board of trade last evening, and read in his absence by Mr. Ed. Evans:

It is now generally conceded that one must have special aptitude and special training to succeed in law, medicine, the ministry, teaching—any of the learned professions. This concession on the part of the public has been slow and in some places long deferred. The callings are by no means upon the same plane professionally, and in some states some of them are scarcely claim professional dignity at all, so far as legal requirements are concerned. Possibly the order of professional rank in most communities would put medicine first, law second, the ministry third and teaching last. This order likewise indicates to the average person what is held to be the relative importance of body, property, soul and mind. The medical profession has the highest educational and professional qualifications, law is next, the ministry is third and teaching is last. The requirements are by no means uniform, but taking the conditions the country over, this seems to be true.

The necessity of special training for the ministry and law is not so apparent as it is for the other two. In the nature of the case, the knowledge demanded in law and medicine is more technical and, so far as the public can see, the skill needed calls for a greater aptitude than do the professions of preaching and teaching. On this account recognition of the needs of special preparation for these latter callings has been somewhat tardy. Even yet the demand for well trained teachers is by no means universal. However, the sentiment of the public is rapidly approaching this condition.

Here in Wisconsin, with a well equipped splendid educational department in the university, with eight state normal schools, and twenty-five county training schools for the training of teachers, in the different parts of the state, there can be no excuse for the employment of poorly prepared teachers even in the remotest districts.

Great Teachers Are Born

Great teachers like great poets and musicians are born, but like great poets and musicians THEY MUST BE BORN AGAIN. Mere natural aptitude is not sufficient in any calling. To it must be added infinite capacity for taking pains, infinite zeal in the work, and infinite study of details.

HERE'S WHAT HARVEY DEE BROWN WILL TALK ABOUT

Above is a picture of the White Plague Exhibit which is being utilized as an educational feature in this state by the Wisconsin Antituberculosis Congress. The exhibit is shipped from city to city, staying a fixed period in each, the purpose being to permit the people to study the causes, results, treatment and modes of prevention of consumption. Everywhere it is attracting great attention, thousands of people viewing it every week. That it should draw large crowds is convincing evidence that the people of the state are awake to the horrors of tuberculosis, as nothing else could serve to attract a attention to such an exhibit.

This exhibit will appear in La Crosse during the coming year, probably as a feature of the inter-state fair. In order that the best results from viewing it may be attained, the congress precedes it everywhere by a series of anti-tuberculosis lectures. It is this lecture which is to be delivered in La Crosse next Saturday, June 5th, by Harvey Dee Brown, a scientist whose name is known wherever the fight against tuberculosis is being waged. In him La Crosse sees one of the results of the Red Cross Stamp crusade waged so successfully here last winter. Part of the money so raised pays for sending him here, and for sending the exhibit here later. La Crosse has paid for the lecture of Dr. Brown. It should reap the full advantage of that lecture by packing the high school auditorium Saturday night.

GREENES LIMITED PLACE OF BEAUTY

Immense Crowds Visit Magnificent New Ladies' Furnishings Store All Day Long

Twenty-seven saleswomen, neatly gowned in black, with white ruching, all anxious to serve their customers, greeted the hundreds of visitors to the new Greene's Limited this morning when the store was formally opened by Manager Rothchild.

Greene's Limited is something different. As you enter you are surprised to find the floor thickly carpeted with heavy green carpeting, fixtures of spotless white greet the eye on every side and the place is lighted to the dazzling point in the evening. Thirty 100-watt tungsten lamps are suspended from the ceiling and besides these there are 250 incandescent lamps which add their brightness to the already dazzling glow.

The front display windows are similarly lighted, 86 big 100-watt tungsten lamps here casting their bright glare into the handsomely decorated windows, and attracting the attention of shoppers for many blocks.

As you enter the store, to the right the first thing to be encountered will be the cloak department, where a complete stock of the newest in the market greets the eye. This is followed by the suit department, then in going around the store come the gowns, shortwaists, millinery and other departments in endless array of bright new stock.

Miss Crouch, recently of Marshall Field & Company of Chicago, who has just returned from Europe, where she has been on business connected with her department, has taken charge of the millinery department and is meeting the trade there today. Mr. B. Greene of Chicago, proprietor of the store, was here today for the opening and expressed himself as well pleased with the way in which La Crosse people are welcoming this new enterprise to the city. D. S. Kornis, president of the company, will arrive here tomorrow. At the present time the company is operating three stores, one at La Crosse, one in Chicago and the other in New York City.

BOB LA FOLLETTE BEGINS HIS GREAT SPEECH ON TARIFF

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2.—A spirited attack on the Aldrich tariff bill was made in the senate by Senator La Follette of Wisconsin.

He declared the fundamental principles of protection had been abandoned and the bill had been so framed as to insure large profits to favored industries.

He said according to the older and better standard he was not a radical but a conservative on the tariff question. The senator showed that on Jan. 1, 1909 the trusts controlled 10,220 plants in this country.

He said they have a total capital of thirty-one billions, six hundred and seventy-two millions.

"When you have a combination," said La Follette, "that can say to the producer, 'You get so much' and to the consumer, 'You pay so much,' it is as bad as though you paid no wages. It is slavery."

He declared that the result of the formation of monopolies in this country had been exorbitant prices and goods of inferior quality.

An incident unprecedented in the senate occurred after La Follette had spoken two hours and on account of the great energy he displayed began to show signs of exhaustion.

Senator Money, of Mississippi, observed his condition and moved that the senate take a recess of half an hour in order to give La Follette time in which to refresh himself. The motion was carried.

STREET CAR RIOT

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 2.—Real rioting began in the strike of the trolley employees today. But for the intervention of the marine guard of the League island navy yard, hurriedly dispatched outside to prevent injury to government property, a force of city police would have been overwhelmed by a mob. As it was the police used their revolvers and clubs but no one was killed.

CUBS' SECRETARY CAUGHT OFF BASE

CHICAGO, June 2.—Following a sensational divorce suit filed by his wife, Chas. H. Thomas has resigned as secretary of the Chicago National league baseball club and left town. He left behind him today a brief note citing his domestic troubles as the cause of his departure.

Mrs. Thomas says that last Friday night she told her husband she was going to Milwaukee. They about 4 a. m. Sunday, she says, she and two women friends went to a Ravenswood woman's house, removed their shoes on the lawn outside, crept upstairs and hid in the bathroom. Then their chauffeur telephoned from a neighboring house and told the woman who is named in the divorce suit, that the Cubs' ball park was affire.

Immediately, says Mrs. Thomas, her husband rushed to the telephone and she and her friends jumped out of the bathroom and confronted him.

INVITE PRESIDENT TAFT TO LA CROSSE

Board of Trade Decides to Ask Executive to Stop Enroute to St. Paul This Summer

NO "FOURTH" CELEBRATION

Proposition Will Not Be Fathered by Board—Public Rest Room to Be Provided

Through the efforts of the La Crosse board of trade, President Taft may be induced to pay La Crosse a visit for a day, while enroute to St. Paul, where he has promised a visit this summer. At the regular meeting last evening which immediately followed the 6 o'clock dinner given at a public rest room for women who tee on civic affairs reported that the president has agreed to visit St. Paul and recommended that he be invited to visit La Crosse while enroute there. The matter was turned over to the board of directors and immediate action will be taken.

La Crosse may not have a Fourth of July celebration. The matter was considered and killed by the committee on civic affairs. W. E. The winning run was forced with a base on balls Hoffman was put off the field in the third inning for disputing a decision.

New York won from Brooklyn in the fifth inning, all of the three runs at that time being due to errors by Shortstop McMillan. Ames became wild in the ninth inning, and forced a run. With the bases filled the New York pitcher caught Bergen's liner, ending the game.

New York and Washington took turns shutting each other out in a double header, the Yankees winning the first game 4 to 0, while the second went to Washington, 2 to 0. Many brilliant plays were made in both games.

Philadelphia and Boston broke even in a double header Tuesday afternoon. Each team won a game by 1 to 0. Philadelphia beating Boston in the first game in eleven innings on a two-bagger by Ganley and Murphy's single. Boston won the second contest in the eighth inning on a single by Niles, a wild throw by Baker and Speaker's single. Boston did not make an error in either contest, making four straight games without a misplay.

JEFF MAY FIGHT FOR PITTSBURG FANS

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 2.—If the plans of the national athletic club do not miscarry, Pittsburgh boxing fans will be given an opportunity to see James J. Jeffries in action in the prize ring. Negotiations were completed yesterday to bring Jeffries to this city on June 15 when he will be pitted against some man in a six round bout. It is rumored that Hugh McGann, who was defeated three weeks ago by Stanley Ketchel, will be the man selected. Over the long distance phone yesterday Jeffries said: "My showing for these six rounds will greatly determine how soon I will take Jack Johnson on. I have been going three rounds to date and this will be more of a tryout than most people think."

It is said Jeffries has been guaranteed $3,000.

TRI-STATE EVENT HERE ON SATURDAY

JUNE 5 TO BE BIG DAY FOR LOCAL ATHLETES

11 CITIES ALREADY ENTERED

Fine Line of Medals and Shields are Offered for the Winners of Interstate Events

Saturday is the big day for the high school athletes in this vicinity of Wisconsin and Minnesota. The second annual track and field meet which is given by the local high school will be held in the afternoon. The meet serves as a great advertising medium for the city, a reason why, say high school boys, every merchant, jobber and business man should support it.

At present there are ten teams entered, the high schools from Sparta, Winona, Bangor, Houston, Galesville, Alma, Portage, Eau Claire, Menominee and La Crosse. The dope artists seem to favor Menominee as the winner of the meet. With a team of six men, this school captured the big interscholastic meet which was given at Minneapolis about two weeks ago. They have entered a team of eight men here, consisting of such well known high school athletes as Jackson, who will probably land first place in the shot put, the high jump, the broad jump and a possible second in the pole vault; Condie who made record breaking time in the mile run at Minneapolis and who will probably walk away with the event here, and Miller, who will easily take the hammer event. The Menominee team is confident of capturing the beautiful trophy which is being offered by E. W. Parker for the winning relay team.

Local Team Busy.

The local men will put in a strenuous week of practice and promise to give the team from the northern part of the state a hard run for first place. The men are rapidly rounding into the best of condition and when Saturday comes can be depended on to uphold the record of last year.

The medals which are offered are beautiful specimens of the jeweler's art being artistic in appearance and of a noticeable size and weight. They are on exhibition at the jewelry store of E. W. Parker. A beautiful solid gold medal is offered to the athlete making the greatest number of points in the meet.

After the meet, in the evening, a dance and a reception to the visiting athletes will be given at the Elks' hall. The committee in charge are Walter Hendrickson, George Walker and Arthur Hayes. The hall is being decorated for the occasion which promises to be one of the social events of the year. At the reception the various prizes and trophies will be presented to the winning athletes. With the continuance of the meet as an annual affair this city promises soon to take its place as one of the high school athletic centers of the northwest. Capable men are being obtained to take charge of the meet in order to make it a success.

ATHLETES WIN FROM VIROQUA 11 TO 1

Playing their first game of the season and with several new men in their line-up the La Crosse Athletes swamped the Viroqua White Sox, by a score of 11 to 1. Viroqua was outbatted and outplayed at every part of the game and had no chance against the fast work of the Athletes. Their only run was scored in the seventh inning on an error after two were out. Nutting, the big plumber, recently secured by the Athletes, was responsible for most of Viroqua's goose eggs, he allowing but four scattered hits, striking out 11. Wais' work behind the bat was also a feature of the game. Three different times he caught difficult high fouls up against the grandstand.

KAUFMAN MAY FIGHT JOHNSON LABOR DAY

NEW YORK, June 2.—Sporting men here today are declaring their belief that in agreeing to take on "Big Al" Kaufman for a fight to be decided probably next labor day, Jack Johnson has taken the preliminary step toward welching out of his match with Stanley Ketchel at San Francisco, Oct. 12.—They declare that Johnson, if Kaufman is in shape, can hardly expect to come out of the bout even though he wins, in condition for a bruising go only a month later. On the other hand, friends of the black champion declare Johnson simply shows the supreme confidence he has in himself and that he expects to win from both Ketchel and Kaufman.

Johnson and Kaufman will receive bids for the fight from clubs in the United States, England and France until July 1. Australia is barred, Johnson declaring he was abused so much there that he will never again put on the gloves in that commonwealth.

If California gets the fight Johnson will agree to go on for only 20 rounds. If another place is the successful bidder, the battle may go 45 rounds or to a finish.

Sixty-five per cent of the fighter's share is to go to the winner and 35 per cent to the loser, while Johnson agrees to make his side bet as much as Kaufman may desire.

ELLIOTT CALLS PROSPECTS GOOD

LEAGUE IS IN WAY OF MEETING WITH SUCCESS DURING FIRST SEASON

President John Elliott of the Minnesota-Wisconsin league returned yesterday from Superior and Duluth where he attended the opening of the league in those places.

The league meeting which was held at Superior was merely a conference at which the probable destinies of the league were threshed out and the verdict was a most favorable one. All of the clubs are prospering and the twelve men limit will be strictly adhered to. The salary limit which starts today will be $1,200, exclusive of the manager, and affidavits will be received from all of the club presidents tomorrow.

The strengthening of the Superior team was one of the principal topics of discussion. Much new timber will be added to the line-up, including a couple of infielders and an outfielder. Roy Geyer, who was released by the locals to Drift, is considered a most promising addition. Pitcher Stremmel, the former W.I. stay of their pitching staff, and President Elliott thinks that the team will win a majority of the games now that they are at home. The three days that he was at the northern cities were most disagreeable, but the attendance was not less than 1,300, and taken all in all the prospects of the league are of the brightest hue.

NO GOLD IN SHINING SAND FROM EXCAVATIONS

An examination of the sand that was taken from the excavations of the new theater on Main street failed to disclose any great quantities of gold as it was at first thought. Superintendent Bird of the Public schools made a washing of the sand but failed to find any of the glittering metal. There were a few small particles of metal but only a chemical examination would reveal its nature.

NO SECRETS ABOUT ELFENBRAU

We want everybody to know that the correct amount of Nature's Products are used in its brewing. There is but one way to make Pure Beer and that is Our Way. Selected Hops are used to give Elfenbrau a snappy tonic twang. India Rice is added to give a light golden color and the barley gives it a silken luster and an aromatic flavor. This rich solution is boiled and filtered in the biggest and most sanitary of kettles and starts on its long journey through our magnificent Brewery to the Public.

KNOWING THE NORMAL

The official statement as to the purposes, scope and equipment of the new normal school, published yesterday by Supt. F. A. Cotton, and his address before the board of trade last night, the text of which will be found elsewhere in this issue of The Tribune, have a wide interest in this community.The people of La Crosse are not, as yet, acquainted with the normal school and what it means to this city and section. We have watched with pride and pleasure the long and indefatigable efforts of Senator Morris, which had their fruition in the establishment here of a splendid institution of learning. We have felt that something big had been attained. We have experienced the exultation that comes with the triumph of a strong man's work. But we have not, as yet, adjusted ourselves to the situation, we have not analyzed the worth to us of this splendid school, we have not acquainted ourselves in detail with its various activities and the opportunities and advantages it offers.Supt. Cotton has enabled us to do this. In his statement, or prospectus, he has acquainted us with the school in a technical way. In his address he made plainly manifest the value of the school as an educational factor, and presented the ethical side of the normal, its influence in the development of our people, its far reaching potency for good.
Having read these, we must feel more closely acquainted with the institution and its head, we must realize a close community of interest with him in his work, and a deep sympathy for all effort the purpose of which is to make this city felt as a center from which radiates a broadening and elevating influence through educational uplift and expansion.

GETTING TOGETHER

The gastronomic business meeting of the board of trade last evening proved so great a success that it was unanimously voted to make it a permanent feature of the organization. The degree of informality teached, and the interest manifested,proved beyond dispute that there is lasting merit in Mr. Hebbard's innovation, and the experiment convinced those who participated that it will pay big dividends in harmony and co-operation.The business men of a city cannot eat their way to success. A city does not necessarily expand with the stomachs of its citizens. But the thing that has been lacking has been what, in law is called "a meeting of the minds," a unity of ideas and purposes thought out along one general line. There has been no lack of public spirit, but influential citizens have worked at cross purposes in their desire to develop La Crosse.The advantage of the new sort of board meetings is that, through the element of pleasure and congeniality, all the various forces working for civil expansion are drawn together in paths of easy familiarity. The natural outcome of this will be greater mutual understanding, greater similarity of purpose, greater unity of action. The product of these should be steady, sound progress.

SPOTLIGHTS

One of the most unique entertainments ever given in La Crosse will occur at the theater on Monday, June 14th, when the "Russian Symphony Orchestra" of New York, Modest Altschuler, conductor, and the Ben Greet players under the personal direction of Ben Greet, will appear. This combination of a full symphony orchestra of fifty pieces and a complete dramatic company of as many more has never before been seen in this country and the present joint tour of these two organizations, which has extended across the continent has been very successful. At this performance the bill will be Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" with the full strength of the Ben Greet company, while the orchestra will render the full score of the Mendelssohn incidental music.
In the performance of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" Mr. Greet will be seen in the character of Bottom, one of his most successful Shakespearean characterizations. Other members of the company are Miss Irene Rooke, who has been seen here as Mercia in "The Sign of the Cross," and in the support of E. H. Sothern; the Misses Ruth and Violet Vivian; two beautiful young English girls brought to America by Mr. Greet; Miss Grace Halsey, Miss Grace Clark Kahler, the well known young American soprano, Milton Rosmer, J. Sayre Crawley, Hilton Allen, Le Gai Robinson, Earl Q. Snider, Redmund Flood, Edward Arnold, George Vivian, Percival Seymour, Leon Brown and a score of others. The company also includes a ballet of children who will be seen in the fairy dances in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and a premier danseuse altogether, with orchestra, singers, dancers and actors there are nearly 100 people in the production, and two rows of the orchestra have to be removed to take care of the musicians.HORTENSE NIELSEN IN "A DOLL'S HOUSE" COMING"It is with 'A Doll's House' that Ibsen enters upon his kingdom as a world's poet," says William Archer, one of the greatest and best known dramatic critics in the world, whose writings have become text books of the drama. "This is the play that was destined to carry his name beyond the borders of Scandinavia and into the remotest regions of civilization," he continues.Many famous actresses have essayed the role of Nora, the principal character in "A Doll's House," and it has often been played in its native tongue, and also in English, French, German and Italian; but no one has ever played it who has understood the complexities of Nora's character better than Miss Hortense Nielsen. Her portrayal of the character is at once with the author's idea, the varying emotions of the bythe, lark-like, high-strung little woman control her; she creates the very atmosphere of the Scandinavian scenes. Intuitively she seems to appreciate the perplexities which confront Ibsen's Nora, and she tries to untangle the skein of life from the viewpoint of her peculiar inheritance; in face, figure and posture she stands forth a Nora that the ver-iest neophyte at once recognizes.In "A Doll's House" Ibsen has created a play of absorbing interest. His heroine is a young woman of most engaging personality, full of the joy of living, delightfully affectionate, loving everything that is beautiful, quick to be depressed even to a state of morbidity by anything unpleasant.
Born with an inherited disregard for the property rights of others, she spends money carelessly; not so much for herself as to gratify her love for giving pleasure to others.She is married to a prosaic business man who has had a struggle to make both ends meet. Although he loves her, he has only a meager conception of her character; and his high sense of honor will not brook her somewhat warped notions on the subject of other people's property.
In the midst of their poverty, Helmer, her husband, is taken sick, and the doctor advises a long sojourn to a southern country. She, being frenzied with the fear that he will die, raises twelve hundred dollars from a loan shark; and even goes so far as to forge her father's name to the document she signs.They go away, Helmer recovers; and when he returns is given the position as manager of a bank in which the money lender holds an inferior position. Helmer of course does not know how the money has been obtained to pay for his trip to Italy, having been told by Nora that she got it from her father who died. But just when everything looks brightfor them, the loan shark appears to her, and demands that she shall induce her husband to retain him in the bank, on pain of being exposed, he having discovered the forgery.
She does ask her husband, and he refuses, sending the letter to Krogstad, the money lender, announcing his dismissal in her presence. From that time forth she changes. She is not impressed with the enormity of her crime; it is the prospect of exposure and her husband's resulting harshness that af-fright her. Krogstad does not pounce upon her at once; he tortures her slowly; and all the time she, becoming more and more frightened and morose, turns first to one and another for sympathy without betraying her secret, and all to no avail.
One man, the doctor, whom she had looked upon as a friend, reveals his love for her when she would appeal to his sympathies.She stands alone, fighting a battle with herself and against the man who has it in his power to break up the home. Before the eyes of the audience she eats as it were from the tree of knowledge and comes into a complete understanding of life, the world and herself. And finally the time comes when the secret comes out; and, as she had anticipated, her husband turns against her, nor does the fact that her crime was committed so that she might have the means of saving his life soften his heart, nor reduce the enormity of the crime in his eyes.She pleads for his love, but he is adamant; and finally in a scene which is startlingly realistic Nora, having at last arrived at the point of pure, unselfish, sacrificing womanhood, seeing only the stain upon her husband's name if she remains, quietly makes her preparations, and with a few belongings, leaves her home, her children and her husband to go out into the world alone, in order that the man who has killed her love for him, and her children, may be saved from shame.The character of Helmer is not a pleasant one, although it is perhaps true to life, making it a difficult task to play it; but no actor has ever succeeded in making it quite so human as John Maurice Sullivan, who is well known to theater goers.La Crosse theater, June 6th, matinee and night.

IMPORTANT COURT DECISIONS

WATER CHARGES DEPENDENT ON METER. The charter of the city of New York provides that the consumer shall pay for water according to the registration of a meter.
In People ex rel. McAuliffe v. City of New York et al., 114 New York Supplement, 312, it appeared that the meter of respondent had failed for some months to record, although water was being used continually. The city was aware of the defective meter. Some time later it sent an employee, who took the properly recorded average of several months, and from these computed a charge for the period in which the meter had failed to operate. This respondent refused to pay. The New York Supreme court remarked that although the neglect of the officials of the city has perhaps given relation something for nothing, no one can tell how much water was actually used during the period of the meter's non-operation, and it is the plain mandate of the charter that no charge can be made except for water actually used as shown by the meter, and if it showed nothing the charter seems to allow no charge.QUIPS AND CRANKS

MEMORIAL SENTIMENT IN STORYOne of the striking features of the Memorial day observance in La Crosse, was the address of Rev. A.
Lincoln Shute, pastor of the First Methodist church, at the Oak Grove cemetery on the morning of Memorial day, when the graves of the fallen heroes were decorated.Rev. Shute said in part:
"On another such occasion, the story goes, the Sheridan cadets were marching down the street of their native village, returning from the decoration of the veterans' graves on Memorial day. In the rear of their orderly lines and bright new uniforms there marched one man, tall, erect, alert, wearing the remains of what was once a uniform of blue, now badly worn. A little boy from his perch on a dry good's box, worried his way through the crowd to the curb that he might better view the march of 'our fellows,' of whom he was so proud. The old man, with his faded uniform, seemed to the boy to be out of place. Gathering a handful of mud, he moulded it into a ball, and sent it straight against the breast of the old veteran. The insult to the old uniform fired the old soldier's heart. He resolved to avenge the insult, caught the young miscreant, who had had the misfortune to slip in the same mud from which he moulded the mud ball, and as he lifted his cane and was about to administer a deserved thrashing to the youngster for his insult to the nation's uniform, his cane fell from his hand, and with a voice of surprise and pain, he exclaimed, 'What —you Lem Mason's boy—the grandson of my old comrade, Tony Mason?' Words of apology were followed with an invitation from the old veteran to the boy to come with him and hear something that probably he never before had heard."Finding a seat in the village park the old soldier began his story without introduction. 'It was on the first of July, 1863, at Gettysburg, a boiling hot day,' he began. And then with thrilling interest he told the story of that awful battle, the disasters of the first day, the perhaps even break between the blue and the gray on the second day, and then the tremendous experience of that final day of the fight. He told how they were up and at it in the morning; then the calm before the storm, followed by that terrific cannonade of more than two hundred guns, the most furious ever heard on any battlefield of human history; then that mighty charge of the flower of southern arms and chivalry under Pickett. 'O, it was a glorious day, but I did not see it all,' said the veteran. He was shot and lying where no man could live during that awful struggle. He expected to die and took what he supposed was his last look of farewell at Old Glory.
Just then a man sprang from the rifle pits, lifted him in his arms and carried him to a place of safety.
Then his rescuer fell dead, shot through the chest. 'Who was it?' Did you know him?' eagerly asked the boy. 'Yes,' answered the veteran; 'we were boys together and comrades in the war. It was Tony Mason.' 'Why,' said the boy, 'that was my grandfather, Grandpop Mason.'
'Yes,' replied the old soldier, 'it was your grandfather; and today I have been out to put some posies on his grave.' There is one boy who learned that Decoration day the respect that is due to the uniform of blue—one boy who can never forget something of the cost of our national heritage."As with that boy, by reason of the lapse of time, there is danger—increasing danger—that the rising generation will forget the sacrifices which were essential to create andto maintain our national heritage.
The same is true in the realm of religion; there is danger of indifference to the sacrifice of the first
for the sins of the world; and men
are too likely to forget the sacrifice of the martyrs by which our holy Christianity has at last reached us with its blessings of temporal and eternal life. We are too likely to forget the heroism of the fathers of
'76, and the patriotic devotion of the boys of the '60s. But we must never forget what they did in order to be able to pass on to their children the republic that is ours today. For an example, think of the heroic First Minnesota at the battle of Gettysburg. It was the afternoon of the second day. Our line on the Em-metsburg Pike had been broken and was retreating. Reinforcements for Hancock were coming on the run.
But Wilcox's whole confederate
brigade were coming on the run too,
and they were much nearer. Something heroic must be done, or the day was lost, as the first had been.
Turning to Colonel Colville, of the already thinned ranks of the First Minnesota, Hancock said, 'Colonel,
do you see those rebel colors? Take them.' Like a live thunderbolt those 262 officers and men drove straight for the center of Wilcox's brigade; 262 men went in; 224 were left dead on the field. Only 32 came back; but, thanks to their heroic endeavor, they brought with them the rebel colors, the necessary five minutes time was gained, our broken lines were reformed, the reinforcements had arrived, and the day was saved."At such fearful cost as this we have received our heritage; a land
of such opportunity as the world
elsewhere has never known; a land where slavery has been killed forever; a land of unity, forever one and inseparable. Their is no unfriendly power upon our southern border, as would have been the case
if the south had been successful in that conflict. Instead of this, we are a united people, all sections growing ever more friendly with each other. And thus has been developed a great republic—not a pair

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.The same is true in the realm of religion; there is danger of indifference to the sacrifice of the first
for the sins of the world; and men
are too likely to forget the sacrifice
of the martyrs by which our holy Christianity has at last reached us
with its blessings of temporal and
eternal life. We are too likely to forget the heroism of the fathers of
'76, and the patriotic devotion of the boys of the '60s. But we must never forget what they did in order to be
able to pass on to their children the
republic that is ours today. For an example, think of the heroic First Minnesota at the battle of Gettysburg. It was the afternoon of the second day. Our line on the Em-metsburg Pike had been broken and
was retreating. Reinforcements for Hancock were coming on the run.
But Wilcox's whole confederate
brigade were coming on the run too,
and they were much nearer. Something heroic must be done, or the
day was lost, as the first had been.
Turning to Colonel Colville, of the
already thinned ranks of the First Minnesota, Hancock said, 'Colonel,
do you see those rebel colors? Take them.' Like a live thunderbolt
those 262 officers and men drove
straight for the center of Wilcox's
brigade; 262 men went in; 224 were
left dead on the field. Only 32 came back; but, thanks to their heroic endeavor, they brought with them the
rebel colors, the necessary five minutes time was gained, our broken
lines were reformed, the reinforcements had arrived, and the day was
saved."At such fearful cost as this we have received our heritage; a land
of such opportunity as the world
elsewhere has never known; a land
where slavery has been killed forever; a land of unity, forever one
and inseparable. Their is no unfriendly power upon our southern
border, as would have been the case
if the south had been successful in
that conflict. Instead of this, we are a united people, all sections
growing ever more friendly with
each other. And thus has been developed a great republic—not a pair of petty peoples, consuming their energies in watching each other, but a world power taking its place in solving the problems of world wide

 Healthy Food--Easy Work

If It Takes Your Strength to Digest Your Meal You Can't Do Much Work

The power to overcome all the ailments of human life, and to meet all the difficulties which life presents is within the province of every individual, says one writer of authority.

He might have added with equal truth most of our ailments we bring upon ourselves, and very often we alone are responsible for our difficulties. Wrong living causes many ailments. Rich, greasy foods at all times, day or night, cause stomach disorders, which must vitally affect every part of the system, becoming quickly chronic.

Start the day right with a sensible breakfast of E-C Corn Flakes or Egg-O-See Wheat Flakes. They are always ready to serve—crisp and delicious. They satisfy the hunger and give health and strength without overloading the digestive powers. Many a chronic stomach has been restored to health by Egg-O-See breakfasts of crisp flakes of corn or wheat served with good milk or cream and a little fruit of some kind.

Remember it is the original and justly famous Egg-O-See process that makes the E-C Corn Flakes and Egg-O-See Wheat Flakes so nice and crisp and healthful.

FOLLOWS HUSBAND TO GREAT BEYOND

A week after the death of her husband, Herman Schreier, Mrs. Gertrude Schreier, aged 72 years, passed away at her home, 2020 Main street. The old couple had lived at that place for over 20 years and it is thought that the shock of the death of her husband hastened her death. There are seven children left: Mrs. Wagner, Mathew and Celia of this city, Mrs. Anton Stokes of Cashton, Mrs. Hanson of Bangor and Christ and William of Fort Smith. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the St. Joseph's Cathedral. The interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery, with Fessler & Dahl in charge.

TRAMP BURIED IN POTTER'S FIELD

In a nameless grave in the Potter's field at Oak Grove cemetery, the unidentified remains of the tramp who was killed about a mile from Medary Sunday afternoon by the Northwestern passenger train were interred by Miller bodies at the expense of the county this morning. The body was kept at the undertaking establishment until this morning but no possible solution as to the identity of the man could be discovered.

A REBELLION

Food Demanded.

The human body will stand a lot of abuse but sometime it will surely rebel and demand the proper food in place of the pasty, starchy, greasy stuff on which it has been made sick. Then is the time to feed Grape-Nuts, the most scientific and perfect food in the world.

A lady of Washington says: "Three years ago I was very ill with catarrh of the stomach and was given up to die by one doctor. I laid in bed four months and my stomach was so weak that I could not keep down medicine or hardly any kind of food and was so weak and emaciated after four months of this starvation that my daughter could easily lift me from bed and put me in my chair."

"But weak as my stomach was, it accepted and relished and digested Grape-Nuts without any difficulty the first time that wonderful food was tried."

"My doctor told me to eat Grape-Nuts, which were predigested, and although I felt certain I could not keep the food on my stomach I made the trial and it was a most complete success."

"I am now strong and in better health than for a great many years and am gradually growing still stronger. I rely on Grape-Nuts for most of the nourishment that I get. The results have certainly been wonderful in my case and prove that no stomach is so weak it will not digest Grape-Nuts."

"My baby got so fat from feeding on Grape-Nuts I was afraid I would have to stop giving the food to him, but I guess it is a healthy fat for his health is just perfect."

FINE SHOWING MADE IN SHOOTING MATCH

Thirty-seven Marksmen in First Day's Event Under Auspices of the Gun Club

MANY PROFESSIONALS HERE

Amateurs Make Fine Showing in Individual Scoring—Moonlight Trip on the River

The second annual tournament of the La Crosse Gun club started yesterday morning at the old Sawyer and Austin mill site, with an attendance of 37 shooters, besides the spectators.

Most of the cities in this vicinity were represented by one or more men, while the larger cities of the state had at least one man at the tournament. Such prominent professionals as Graham, Hughes, Bills and Stannard were present to participate in the affair.

The forenoon yesterday was taken up with the registration and the arrangements for the different events. Shooting was commenced and the events run off in rapid succession.

Three large tents have been provided for the shooters and spectators, one of which is used as a dining tent, meals being served there yesterday.

Rules of the Tourney.

The contest is governed by the Interstate association rules and the decision of the referee is final. All the targets are thrown 50 feet, 9 feet high and 30 feet from the traps. There are two traps at the grounds. The committee of members in charge of the tournament is J. W. Culp, manager; Gus Rose, president; J. V. Winter, secretary and treasurer; S. P. Welch, vice president, and Joseph Ghores. The committee is endeavoring to make the event an enjoyable one for every one concerned, and all the conveniences which are possible have been secured. The meals for the contestants are served at the grounds.

The principal event of yesterday was the contest for a silver cup, the local team winning it for the third time from the Winona aggregation, and thus making it permanent property. The scores in the team shoot were compiled from the regular events during the day. In the competitive shoot the local men broke 89 per cent of the targets, which is considered remarkably good shooting in a tournament of this kind. Following is the team score which won the cup for the local men, showing the total number of targets broken out of 180 shot at:

The Score.
La Crosse—Winter 161, J. Culp 162, Layland 154, Thoreson 157, Smith 161—Total 801.
Winona—James 158, Steffes 170, Norris 142, Artz 100, Wyness, 145—Total 715.

The individual scores were: Professionals—F. Bills 175, Stannard 171, Hughes 170.
Amateurs—Wolfe, Milwaukee, 171; Steffes, Winona, 170; Schultz, 169; Winters, 167.

Moonlight Excursion.
Last evening the shooters were entertained at a moonlight excursion on the river from 8 until 11 o'clock on the steamer La Crosse, all the points of interest in this vicinity being visited. All men spoke very highly of the manner in which they are being treated while in the city as the guests of the local gun club.

This morning 22 men had entered and the shooting consisting of 12 events with a total of 200 targets. This is the last day of the tournament, and when completed many of the contestants will leave, some for their homes, and some for other cities, where they will participate in other tournaments.

Board of Trade has a mission, we should find it out, and if there is a reason for such a board we should continue it, but if it has no purpose, we should cut it out." Mr. Schweizer then went on to show the good work being done by the organization and he severely scored the members who do not actively assist in carrying out the projects of the institution.

"Why has not our Board of Trade been more successful?" he queried. "Because we have not had the co-operation of our members. The greatest critics are those who do the least. We have all the machinery, a good set of officers, but something is wrong." The speaker likened the board to a lunatic's patent fly catcher and explained that it didn't catch flies because a vital rung which led to the trap was missing.

He endorsed the project to make the six o'clock dinners a regular thing, saying "When we eat the same food we are generally of the same mind, and feel better disposed to talk over our business matters together."

Hardy Talks on Education.
Prof. Albert Hardy made a very interesting talk on education and the new normal school and many of the ideas he presented to the members of the board were new to some of his hearers.

"There is a state of great unrest in the world in matters educational just now," said Mr. Hardy. Only about one-third of the children of the United States go through grades in our common schools. If this is so then there is something the matter with the schools. One half of the business men in the world today are dissatisfied with the work of the schools."

"The trouble is, they are not training for vocations. They are too much in the air. A new era is upon us now, however, and a new education is in demand, an education that will train one to work. Our colleges are beginning to recognize this and they are in the van."

Speaking further along this line, Mr. Hardy emphasized the necessity for more male teachers in the schools. He said that there should be at least an equal number of men and women, because a teacher's greatest function is to interpret books in terms of life, gathered from their experience. This experience, he claimed, is lacking among young women instructors.

Dr. Evans Proposes Playground.
Dr. Edward Evans who was the next speaker on the program, proposed that a public playground be purchased by the park commission and equipped with paraphernalia for athletic games. He wanted this placed midway between the La Crosse high school and the new normal school, so that it would afford an opportunity for the normal students and the boys of the high school to get together.

John M. Holley endorsed the suggestion of Mr. Evans and a motion was passed recommending to the park commission that such action be taken.

Mr. Evans then read the interesting paper on the new normal school, by President Fassett A. Cotton, who was prevented by illness from being present at the meeting.

Next Dinner in September
The supper was declared a great success and the members of the board were so well pleased with the outcome of it and the large attendance that it was unanimously decided that at the next meeting of the board, to be held the first Tuesday in September, a similar dinner will be given.

The members of the board were prompt in arriving and the dinner was well under way at half past six. The viands were tempting and the service so far above the average that members commented upon the smoothness with which the 180 men were seated and fed.

The following young ladies as waitresses made a decided hit: Misses Neva West, Lillian Torrence, Lora Hill, Ruth Palmer, Laura Palmer, Ruth Leissring, Hazel Ruppel, Helen Bailey, Ruth Hillestad, Laura Chamberlain, Clara Fox, Meta Mueller, Edith Derr, Daisy Gage, Grace Hildreth, Laura Hughes, Rena Call, Mabel Call, Lillie Martine, Anna Worth, Mattie Hughes and Gertrude Scott.

The committee on arrangements consisted of W. A. Pryor, William Torrance and E. L. Spicer.

BADGER NINE MAY PLAY IN JAPAN

MADISON, Wis., June 2.—If the faculty will give its consent, the university of Wisconsin baseball team will go to Tokyo, Japan, next September and play ten games with the Koto university. The Japanese school has extended an invitation to Wisconsin to make the trip, guaranteeing to pay all expenses.

Koto plays an American university team each fall but the California schools have usually made the trip. The Badgers were invited this season through the efforts of Genkwan Shibwata, a student at Wisconsin.

MAGNIFICENT NORTH SIDE PARK STARTED

Workmen Clearing Off Site of New Playgrounds for North Siders on Black River

PAVILION AND GYMNASIUMS

Driveways, Bathing Pools and Other Attractive Features Will Be Included

The preliminary work on the north side park which will front on the Black river was begun yesterday, the men being put to work under the personal supervision of Landscape Gardener Richard Iwerson of Boston, who has the general contract for the work in the city.

The men are being kept busy cutting down the objectionable trees and all other unnecessary objects now on the park site. A large lumber shed belonging to the Nichols Lumber company was sold to George Pratt, the consideration being $450. This building will be torn down and the lumber taken from the site of the park. The actual plans for the park have not as yet been decided on because of features about the site, which if they are to remain permanently, will change the plans of the commission greatly.

It was learned from an official source today that the commission has let a contract for all the dredging and filling necessary to raise the park to a level of two feet above the water to the La Crosse Dredging company. The commissioners believe that the contract is an advantageous one, the statement being made that in a spirit of patriotism the dredging company made a very low price on the job. The work will be begun immediately.

Iwerson stated that the plans of the park would probably call for two gymnasiums, one at each end of the park, and a large general play ground, for baseball, tennis and other sports. A large pavilion will be constructed in the center of the park, which will be encircled by a large and excellent driveway. Mr. Iwerson stated that the site offers an excellent opportunity for one of the best parks in this locality. Notices have been issued to the owners of the bathhouses on the river front of the park site, requesting them to vacate their present locations. This order has been the result of some ill-feeling among the launch owners of the north side. Some of the boat owners say that they will remain at their present locations until they are forced to vacate. The La Crosse Motor Boat club has refused to take any action in support of the boat owners as it is conceded that the park commission has the legal authority to clear the river front at the park site, and should have the moral support of the motor boat people.

OWEN WISTER, VICTIM OF MYSTERIOUS MALADY

PHILADELPHIA, May 31. — A mysterious malady which has completely baffled half a dozen physicians has overtaken Owen Wister, the novelist. He remains seriously though not dangerously ill at Butler Place, the old Wister country home, York road on Olney avenue.

The sickness comes as a result of severe nervous depression combined with extreme physical weakness, and the noted novelist must at least temporarily give up his literary labor.

His most noted work is the Virginian.

John Donehower has returned to his home at Dakota after a brief business visit here yesterday.

THE HUMAN BODY; A STORY FOR THE BOYS AND GIRLS OF LA CROSSE

"Do you know," says Professor W. Earl Flynn, who is conducting The Tribune's educational health campaign in La Crosse, "that our bodies are full of little workers who keep busy all day long? We call the workers, the cells, and they repair or rebuild themselves entirely, every day. These little workers are just as real as the carpenter or mason or painter or plumber that we see about a house during its construction. The cells object just as hard to have to lay off when out of material as do the human workers."

There is a little shop keeper up in the brain who has telephone connection with each little worker. When more material is needed, the cells telephone to the shop-keeper, and he in turn sends word by the errand boy, hunger, to the head of the commissary department.

This little fellow's name is Taste and his home is in the mouth. A mighty important position he occupies, but, poor fellow, he is usually sick and not able to attend to business properly. How does he get sick, you ask? Oh! because the owner of the body puts material into the mouth without waiting for the errand boy, hunger, to ask for it.

Why, hunger himself disobeys orders, then loses his head entirely, and calls for material three or four, and sometimes five times a day. Of course, all the body building is going on wrong at such times, for Taste is always asking for the wrong material, and as for the amount—he asks for more in one day than the cell workers can take care of in two.

As a result the body is slapped together in a very crooked way. That is why some bodies are too thin, some too thick, some too short, others too tall, some with too much nose, others with too flat ones, some with too much in their feet, others with scarcely anything to stand on, some with brains the size of a bushel basket, others the size of a peanut.

But all this trouble cannot be laid at the door of the little workers, you see, for they have to use the material they get. Let us lay the blame on Hunger and hear what he says. "I do what I am told to do," Hunger will say. "I carry the message to Taste, but as you know, he is sick, never in his right mind. I do the next best thing and call for material anyway." "So anything and everything is put in for I do not know how much or what kind of food is needed. That is Taste's business."

And this that Hunger says is all true.

Taste is the only fellow who knows just what the workers need to make the best building. In many of our bodies he is made useless by being ignorant or forgotten. When this happens, trouble is always sure to follow.

What a difference there is in body building when Taste is strong and active. No part of the body is larger or smaller than it ought to be, and no part of it is sick.

The world should know that Taste is the manager of the body building and can be cultivated to take in only the kind and amount of material needed. Then we would never give the workers stuff that was not fit for building, nor would we give them so much that the place would be clogged for no worker can work well if he hasn't room or if the machinery is stopped up.

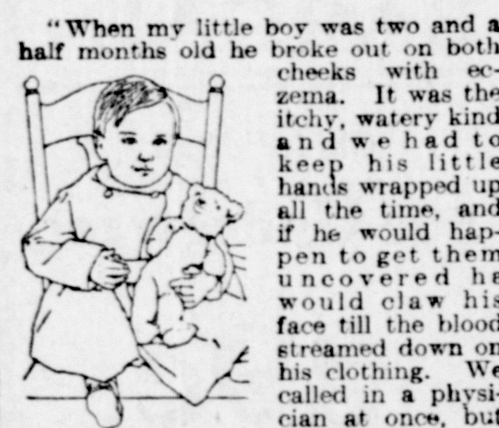

How are we going to cultivate Taste so it will work the way it was intended to work? Oh! that is very simply done. Just chew everything that is put into the mouth (excepting meat) until it is a liquid. Do not let anything go down until Taste has seen every particle of it. Remember Taste must have everything mixed with saliva and ground as fine as the teeth can grind it before he can do his work right. Just try this for two weeks, and if Taste isn't well by that time, or at least on the road to recovery, you are still a very sick person, and will probably have to give Taste an entire rest of a few days before he will be able to do anything right for you.

But all this trouble cannot be laid at the door of the little workers, you

BABY'S TERRIBLE WATERY ECZEMA

Itching Humor Broke Out on Tiny Mite's Cheeks—Would Tear His Face Till Blood Streamed Down Unless Hands were Bandaged—Spent $50 on Useless Treatments.

CURED BY CUTICURA AT COST OF BUT $1.50

"When my little boy was two and a half months old he broke out on both cheeks with a terrible itching, watery eczema. It was the most terrible thing I ever saw. We tried everything we could think of to keep his little hands wrapped up all the time, and if he would happen to get them uncovered he would claw his face till the blood streamed down on his clothing. We called in a physician at once, but he gave an ointment which was so severe that my babe would scream when it was put on. We changed doctors and medicines until we had spent fifty dollars or more and baby was getting worse. I was so worn out watching and caring for him night and day that I almost felt sure the disease was incurable. But finally reading of the good results of the Cuticura Remedies, I determined to try them. I can truthfully say I was more than surprised, for I bought only a dollar and a half's worth of the Cuticura Remedies (Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills), and they did more good than all my doctors' medicines I had tried, and in fact entirely cured him. I will send you a photograph taken when he was fifteen months old and you can see his face is perfectly clear of the least spot or scar of anything. If I ever have this trouble again I will never think of doctoring but will send for the Cuticura Remedies at once. As it is, I would never think of using any other than Cuticura Soap for my babe. You are at liberty to publish this, it may help some distressed mother as I was helped. Mrs. W. M. Comer, Burnt Cabins, Pa., Sept. 15, 1908."

NORMANNA EVENT IS A RARE TREAT

Anniversary Concert Last Evening One of the Best Ever Heard in City of La Crosse

Music lovers in La Crosse were treated to a rare musical entertainment last night at Germania hall, when the jubilee concert of The Normanna Sangerkor, was held before an enthusiastic and appreciative audience.

Praise and congratulations were heaped upon Director E. O. Forseth, who during the last three years has welded the elite among La Crosse Scandinavian singers, into a chorus whose ability although far above the level of ordinary singing societies, is rising rapidly.

Aby assisted by the "Gesang Verein Frohsinn" of this city and the "Luren" chorus of Decorah, Ia., well supported by Miss Ida Aiken and Mr. E. O. Forseth as soloists, the Sangerkor rendered one of the best concerts of this kind ever heard in the city. "Normanna" and "Luren" together, comprising a chorus of almost a hundred voices sang with precision and accent that was remarkable and the work of the Frohsinn society was up to its usual standard of excellence.

Miss Ida Aiken, soprano, made her usual hit with the audience and was encored time after time. Prof. Peter Peterson, violinist, thrilled the audience with his exquisite selections. E. O. Forseth the wonderful baritone conductor of the Normanna chorus, rendered several selections in a masterly manner and the duet, "A Venetian Boat Song" by Blumenthal, which he sang with Miss Aiken was a treat. Miss Aiken's soft soprano blending with his in most delightful cadence.

admission will be fifty cents. Those attending will be given a choice of three natural preparations which Prof. Flynn has prescribed and had marketed for the benefit of his classes. One is a shampoo which provides natural oils to the hair and is the only similar preparation of the kind upon the market, the second is a tonic for the hair, which has been a great aid to Prof. Flynn in producing and preserving his luxuriant head of hair, something remarkable for a man more than 60 years of age. The third preparation is a face cream of his own prescription which is one of the greatest beautifiers ever found. One of these preparations will be given each person attending, and as they sell for fifty cents the lecture is practically a free lecture.

As Prof. Flynn goes through all of his exercises and gives complete demonstrations, those attending are urged to come early, as the front seats will be valuable to thorough enjoyment of the lecture.

Sex Lectures Draw.
The First Methodist and German Methodist churches were filled last night when Miss Bosworth talked to the ladies and Prof. Flynn lectured to the men on the sex problem.

Miss Bosworth's handling of this subject was delicate and strong, and it is seldom similar grace has been displayed in discussing this delicate subject. Miss Bosworth has become a much loved little woman among the ladies she is teaching, and after last night's lecture it was indeed gratifying to see the way the ladies crowded about her asking questions and congratulating her upon her work.

Prof. Flynn's lecture to the men was handled in magnificent style and it is doubtful if any lecturer ever handled this topic more gracefully. Many times during his talk the churchful of men burst into applause in appreciation of his talk.

Regular Flynn classes continue each afternoon and evening at the First M. E. church until the departure of Prof. Flynn and Miss Bosworth. Today is the last chance to get tickets for the course and reservations should be made at The Tribune office or the church today or this evening by those desiring to take advantage of the opportunity. Prof. Flynn is booked for years ahead in larger cities and will not return to La Crosse again. The full course may still be taken at five dollars. Tickets for the Tuesday night lecture will be on sale tomorrow at The Tribune office and at other places to be announced later.

CALLS NORMANNA CONCERT EXCELLENT
(By Urquhart Cawley.)

The Normannakor concert last night at Germania hall was most enjoyable, although the program was a trifle long. Mr. Forseth has complete command over his forces, and the shading of the various numbers under his direction was most artistic. The Frohsinn of this city and the Luren society of Decorah assisted to swell the tide of pleasure, the latter also augmenting the choral volume in two of the numbers. Prof. Peterson gave a delightful rendering of De Beriot's "Scenes de Ballet," playing as an encore Schumann's "Traumeri;" his second number, the Faust Fantasia, was marred however by a slight misunderstanding with his accompanist as regards tempo. Miss Ida Aiken, who was in fine voice, gave a beautiful rendering of Stanley Meriden's "When Wakes the Morn," and had to respond to an encore. She also later was associated with Mr. Forseth in a delightful duet. The concert closed with a fine performance of Grieg's magnificent "Land-sighting" chorus. Mr. Forseth is to be most highly congratulated on his own work and that of the musicians under his care.

HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

When the blood is pure and healthy the skin will be soft, smooth and free from all eruptions or disease, but when the circulation becomes infected with any unhealthy humor the effect is shown by eruptions, pimples, boils, or some more definitely marked skin disorder, such as Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, etc.

Humors get into the blood, usually because of an inactive or sluggish condition of those members whose duty it is to collect and carry off the waste matter and refuse of the system. This unhealthy matter is left to sour and ferment and is absorbed into the blood, and soon the circulation becomes filled with an acrid, irritating humor.

The blood then, instead of performing its natural duty of nourishing the skin, regulating its temperature and preserving its uniform softness, pliability and healthfulness, irritates and diseases the delicate tissues and fibers around the pores and glands and produces some of the various forms of skin eruption or disease.

The cause of all skin affections can be traced to some kind of humor in the blood. Healthy cuticles are only possible where the circulation is pure; and therefore the cure of any skin disease can only come from a thorough cleansing of this vital fluid. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., cannot cure. True such treatment relieves some of the itching and discomfort, helps to reduce inflammation, and aids in keeping the affected parts clean, but it does not reach the blood, where the real cause is located, and at best can be only palliative and soothing.

S. S. S. cures skin diseases of every character and kind because it purifies and cleanses the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors that are causing the trouble, builds up the weak, acrid blood, and completely cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, pimples, boils, and all other skin diseases and affections. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots and herbs, a safe vegetable remedy. When S. S. S. has driven the humors from the blood, and cooled and purified the acid-heated circulation, every symptom passes away, the skin is again nourished with rich, healthful blood, and comfort is given to disease-tortured skin.

S. S. S. cures Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, Nettle Rash, and all other troubles due to a humor-laden blood. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write. S. S. S. is for sale at all drug stores.

pose some systematic line of work should be planned and pursued throughout each year. Only in this way can professional zeal and unity of purpose be realized.

Advantages of Normal Schools

First, it can supply all classes of schools with good teachers. Of all the hindrances that keep large numbers of children in the country and small towns out of their rights, poor teaching should be placed foremost.

After all, the teacher is the main factor in the school. The school exists for the child, but the school can be no better than the teacher. Any discussion of teaching, therefore, must always return to the vital fact or in the process—the teacher. Assignments are necessary, but the teacher must be larger and better than the assignments he makes. Methods and devices are essential, but they depend wholly upon the teacher for any merit they may have. The recitation cannot conduct itself—the teacher is the life of the process.

Is the schoolhouse neat and tidy with everything in order? That is the nature of the teacher. Is it dusty and untidy, with everything in disorder? That, too, is the nature of the teacher. Is there a well arranged program carried out on time, in a businesslike way, so that every class and every child has its chance of work?—the teacher is responsible. Is there a haphazard program, seldom followed completely so that often many of the classes do not rectify?—the teacher is responsible, too. Are there well written assignments on the boards? and are the children so busy in the preparation of their work that they never think of disturbing others?—the teacher is back of it all. Is there disorder and idleness, and discontent?—the teacher is responsible for that, too. Is there joy in the work and happiness in the school and in the playground?—the teacher is the source of that joy and happiness. The supreme need everywhere, then, is a sufficient number of well-trained teachers to take charge of all our schools. These the normal school can supply.

Helps Teachers to Grow

Second, it can help all teachers to grow. Every individual should try to grow each year, and there ought to be some way of testing ones progress. As early as possible one should choose a life work, and having chosen, should make all things secondary to this choice. No one can hope to succeed until anchored to an aim. This is true in every calling in life, but it is particularly true of teaching. The most discouraging fact in the whole subject of school education is the shifting personnel of the teaching force. Anything that can be done to overcome this defect will be a distinct gain to the calling. Thorough preparation insures longer service.

Third, it can prepare teachers to earn the best salaries. Out of more than 14,500 places in Wisconsin, there are perhaps four hundred that pay from one thousand to seven thousand dollars. These include the positions of college presidents and

THE TWINE PLANT DEFEATED 40 TO 36

Farmers Are Furious Over Action and Vow to Compel Equipment of Plant Very Shortly

DEFER GOOD ROADS BILL

Another "Swat" of Farmers Is Postponement of This Measure which Goes to Special Session

MADISON, Wis., June 2.—Binding twine as a product of state manufacture has met temporary defeat in this legislature, but the closing hours of the battle were by no means a rout and the friends of a state binding twine plant fell back from the battlefield in good order to a strongly entrenched position for a future victory at either the coming special session or in the session of 1911. Here is exactly what was done.

The bill for an appropriation of $400,000 for a revolving fund for a binding twine plant at the state penitentiary at Waupun was defeated by a vote of 40 to 36.

The bill for the appropriation of $400,000 for the completion and equipping of the plant was refused a third reading by a tie vote of 39 on each side.

Fight Was Hard

The measure for the repeal of the law of 1907 by which a state binding twine plant was created was indefinitely postponed by a vote of 42 to 36.

Thus the real result of the afternoon's work of the assembly was to retain on the statute books the binder twine plant, although its equipment and the work of operation must be postponed until this legislature in special session or some future legislature sees fit to make appropriations so that it may become a working entity.

All this was not accomplished without a fight, and about 5 o'clock when the friends of the binder twine plant were sealing the efforts to repeal the law of 1907, by which the plant was created, there was a call of the house which threatened to last for some hours, this move having taken at the instance of the opponents of the binding twine plant. Finally, however, they saw that they could not repeal the law, and they weakened and allowed the motion for the reconsideration of the vote by which engrossment of the repealing bill was refused to come to a vote and, be defeated, thus preventing further action on this question at the regular session.

Farmers Are Angry

The binder twine people were not at all humorous last night over the fact that they had not carried their point by storm, while the friends of the plant declared that the farmers of the state would see to it that the special session next winter would under suspension of the rules make the necessary appropriations for the maintenance and equipping of the plant. In the meantime the state has an idle factory building at Waupun on its hands because of the successful efforts of the opponents of the plant.

The history of the bills to date is one of bitter strife. Last Thursday the senate passed the bills, which came before the assembly on Friday afternoon resulting in a bitter debate, a call of the house and afterwards an armistice until Wednesday afternoon. At one time last week the assembly friends of the twine plant had fifty-three votes pledged but the passage of a couple of local measures of some of the men have placed them now in opposition, as they no longer care how the twine plant fares.

Senator Thomas' statement of the controversy and the grilling of the twine monopoly administered by him is one of the chief subjects of discussion.

Senator Thomas in an interview yesterday declared that the real opposition to the twine plant is that if prison twine is ever manufactured in this state it will show up "the monopoly that now exists." He called attention to the fact that a strong paid lobby has been present at the session attempting to defeat the bill. He pointed out that there are no twine manufacturing plants in the state and if the prison embarked in it, there would be no competition with any Wisconsin industry. He says he would not favor embarking in a prison enterprise, where home industries would compete.

Arguments against the twine plant were taken up and discussed by Senator Thomas. It was urged that the manufacture of twine is unhealthy for the prisoners. To this Senator Thomas replied that "distinguished legislators have never raised a protest against the International Harvester company operating in St. Paul, employing nearly all girls in their factory. It would appear they have no regard for health—the mothers of the future generations of this country—but raise their hands in holy horror in having the state of Wisconsin employ its criminals in the manufacture of twine."

Senator Thomas then discussed the great financial success of the Minnesota plant, basing his figures on a special investigation of the subject conducted by the United States government.

"The state of Minnesota for the years 1901 to 1906 inclusive, manufactured 53,476,870 pounds of binder twine of all grades," said Senator Thomas. "The average price the state of Minnesota sold this twine to its consumer for, was .095 cents per pound. At the same time this report shows that the manufacturer sold the same grades of twine for an average of .149, or an excess of .0537 cents higher than the state of Minnesota asked for its twine. This shows that the state of Minnesota saved to its farmers $2,818,007 in the period of six years and at the same time it shows that for the period the state of Minnesota made a net profit on its manufactured twine of $668,611.06, after paying all expenses and crediting sixty-three cents a day for labor of the prisoners employed."

Prison labor in Wisconsin is let by contract for which the state receives sixty-five cents with no possibility of further profit. Senator Thomas quotes from Gov. Hadley of Missouri, who says that the state prior to the establishment of its prison twine plant was ridden by the twine monopoly and thousands of dollars have been saved the farmers. He also quotes from letters of Gov. Marshall of Indiana and Gov. Burke of North Dakota, who lend encouragement to the prison plant enterprise.

Delay Good Roads

By deferring action upon the good roads measure yesterday in the assembly and sending the mover to the special session of the legislature Wisconsin farmers will receive no aid in good road building that can be utilized before 1911. Had one of the bills been passed at this time it would have been possible to have included the amount to be expended by the state good road construction in the November budget. Then as this tax would be collected in January and February the first aid could be obtained during the summer of 1910. But by putting off action on these measures until next January no tax can be levied until November 1910 following the next general election, and the amount so raised will not become available until taxes have been collected and the spring session of 1911 is open.

At the senate session last evening, the university appropriation bill was passed in the agreed from and gives the university an income for building and maintenance purposes during the next two years of about $1,200,000.

AERONAUT TO MAKE DANGEROUS FLIGHT

BOLOGNE, June 2.—One of the most daring aeronautic feats ever attempted—the crossing of the English channel in an aeroplane—will be tried today by Arthur D. Seymour, if the weather conditions are favorable. All arrangements are completed and the effort waits only the weather. Seymour will sail in a bi-plane machine and will attempt to cross from Cape Grisnez, the nearest French point to the English coast, to Dungeness. If things go well he expects to make the trip in thirty minutes, the distance being about 20 miles. Seventeen motor boats will be in the channel along the contemplated route to render assistance in case of an accident.

Seymour assembled his bi-plane of the Versin type today and made several small flights to put it in readiness for the supreme test.

He is confident of success though he has not yet accomplished any flight to compare with that which he contemplates.

DAN CUPID THROWS FRANK GOTCH EASILY

CHICAGO, June 2.—Dan Cupid, the undefeated bantamweight wonder, has won a clean fall from Frank Gotch, the world's champion wrestler. Toe holds were barred in the match but Cupid won with a heart hold that Gotch was unable to break. According to friends, Miss Minnie L. Warner of Chicago will become Mrs. Gotch early in the fall. Miss Warner is a charming brunette. She is a switchboard operator at one of the local theaters and met the champion wrestler about eighteen months ago, when he was showing here.

When Gotch returned from England, reports have it that he brought a huge suitcase with him which he turned over to Miss Warner. The engagement has been kept secret, however this time.

Gotch announced some time ago that he intended to retire next fall and considering his entry into the matrimonial ranks, his withdrawal from active wrestling is more or less expected.

The champion is a wealthy land owner in Iowa.
